Market Technical Outlook

The Nifty opened on a weaker note and witnessed significant volatility throughout the session, ultimately closing in the red. On the daily chart, the index has closed below the 10-day Simple Moving Average (SMA) at 24,848, while still trading above the 21-day SMA at 24,612 suggesting that the underlying trend remains positive. In the upcoming trading session, a move above the 24,870 level could lead the index to test the 24,930 – 25,050 zone. On the downside, support is likely to emerge around the 24,710 – 24,590 levels. Although prices are currently trading below the 10-day Simple Moving Average (SMA), they remain above both the 21-day SMA and the 200-day SMA at 24,056—reinforcing the broader bullish trend. However, the ongoing negative divergence in the Relative Strength Index (RSI) warrants a cautious approach in the near term, as it may indicate weakening momentum despite the overall positive market structure.
