Market Technical Outlook

The Nifty opened on a subdued note traded with choppiness and witness selling pressure in the latter half of the session to close in red. On the daily chart, we are observing five consecutive narrow range body formations which suggests that markets are circumspect at current level. At present, the prices tested the 200-daysSMA (23868) by making a high of 23915 but has convincingly close below it. In coming trading session if nifty trades below 23600 then it may test 23510 – 23460 levels. On the upside, 23750 – 23860 levels may act as resistance for the day.

At present, prices are still trading below rising 200-days SMA (23868) & below the falling 50-days SMA (24197), one needs to adopt cautiously positive approach at current level.
